Close the Loop Apparel Recycling Mailer

Close the loop! Fill this recycled envelope with any clothes you'd like to clean out of your closet and keep out of the landfill. Just fill the envelope, pop it in the mail using the included return label, and we will make sure your clothes are recycled and given a new life. Everywhere garments and other workable clothing will be reincorporated into our supply chain to be turned into new apparel while some materials will be recycled into other items like upholstery filling and insulation. As a thank you for keeping your unwanted clothes out of the landfill, we will issue you a $10 credit to use towards a 100% recycled Everywhere garment.

Donating your old clothes to charity does not ensure that your clothing goes on to a second life or that they are even recycled. Though estimates vary, a shockingly high percentage of clothing that is donated to charity ends up in the landfill or incinerator. Be confident your unwanted clothing is put to good use by recycling with Everywhere.

Thank you for closing the loop.

Adirondack Blanket

Our blankets are custom woven on looms with long-staple cotton yarns, then specially brushed for a time-worn, soft hand feel. The result: a versatile blanket with the perfect blend of ruggedness and comfort to get you through chilly nights at the campfire or cozy nights on the couch. The perfect gift for yourself or others.

Because the beauty of this pattern is inspired by Indigenous art and weavings, a portion of its sales rightfully belongs to the Native community — which is why we give 10% of sales from this product to the Lakota Way Healing Center.

Faherty is actively partnering with Native designers, and soon 100% of our “Indigenous-inspired prints” will be by inspired Indigenous designers; as such, the organizations we support may change accordingly.

Crafted from organic slub cotton for the perfect texture, it's soft and structured, comfortable and crisp, cozy and classic.

Screen Printing and Embroidery

Live in tees that make a difference. Made with a moisture wicking fabric to help stay dry all day long. Perfect sustainable option while providing a drapey relaxed fit. Soft smooth surface for ease of printability. Each eco tee recycles 4 plastic water bottles.

Starfish

Screen Printing

Starfish isn't the only printer in the Bay Area. Our capabilities are no different than the other top printers. The truth is, there is not much variance in talent among the better printers in the business. Screen printing has been around for over a thousand years—the technology has changed, but the methods have not. We all use the same techniques, and the same inks on the same products.

We try to be different with our “small/human” approach. We have presses that distinguish us as a large shop with large shop capabilities, but we want to feel small. It's more human.

At Starfish, you will have your own Account Manager to oversee your projects—they'll guide you through the due dates, inventory, fabric, and artwork specs. They return e-mails and even personally send you tracking info. This is the human part, and it is as important as getting the quality product you've ordered.

Waka Coffee

Medium Roast Colombian Single-Serve Instant Coffee

Arabica Beans

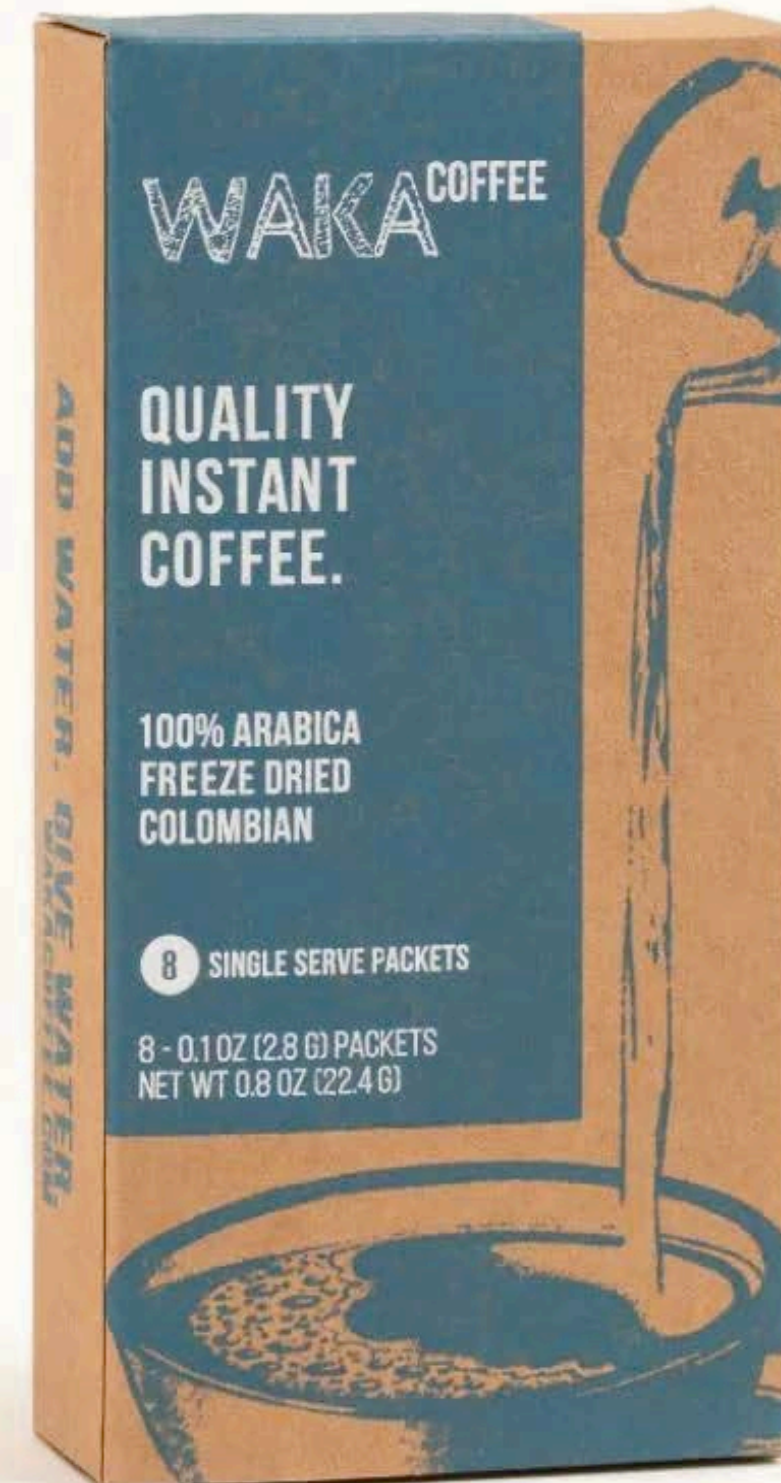

We only source instant coffee made of 100% Arabica beans. The Arabica advantage gives our instant coffee a richer, more complex flavor.

Freeze Dried

Our instant coffee granules are made using advanced freeze drying technology, while traditional brands opt for a mass spray drying process that sacrifices taste for speed and cost. The freeze drying method preserves the coffee's authentic aroma and depth of flavor.

Single Origin Coffee

We source only single-origin instant coffee to preserve the unique flavor of beans grown in that region. This quality Arabica instant coffee is from Colombia. We offer the same beloved taste of drip coffee with less hassle.

Waka Coffee
